DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: the specific protective agents that block the extracellular activation of the wnt pathway as set forth in the specification. The species are independent or distinct because the protective agents are related as products which share an alleged common utility of blocking the extracellular activation of the wnt pathway in stem cells but the common utility is not linked to a substantial structural feature. The products in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the products encompass embodiments that are not required to perform the common utility or (2) that the products as claimed can be used to perform another utility. In this case, fluorouracil may be used to treat cancer.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-25 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Art Unit: 1623

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Conclusion

2. Claims 1-25 are pending. Claims 1-25 are restricted. No claims are allowed.

Art Unit: 1623
